Kourtnee Brown is an accomplished learning and development practitioner and founder of Kourtnee Brown Coaching and Consulting LLC. She collaborates with leaders and organizations to develop highly impactful learning programs designed to increase employee engagement and drive high levels of execution.

With over a decade of experience in talent development, Kourtnee has supported a wide range of learning and development initiatives in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, medical device, and global luxury apparel industries. She is a Certified Professional Coach and facilitates career coaching workshops on professional development topics such as career action planning, interviewing, goal setting, and conducting gap analyses.

In her current role as Learning and Career Consultant at LeaderKeys, Kourtnee is dedicated to furthering the company's mission to equip professionals with the leadership skills needed to accelerate their careers through comprehensive development programs and services.

Kourtnee holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management from The College of New Jersey. When she is not engaging with her clients, Kourtnee enjoys interior design, volunteering, and remaining active in her church community.
